

Is Good Health Reporting an Oxymoron? Health Journalism Workshop

DATE: Friday, November 28th

TIME: 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. (Lunch included)

PLACE: Concordia University – Loyola Campus
7141 Sherbrooke St. West
Communications/Journalism Bldg – Atrium

SPEAKERS INCLUDE:

- Alan Cassels, University of Victoria, co-author of Selling Sickness
- André Picard, public health reporter at The Globe and Mail
- Joe Schwarcz, McGill University, host of the “Dr. Joe Show” on Montreal's CJAD
- Sylvain-Jacques Desjardins, former reporter and press attaché at Université de Montréal

The event also includes a world café on health journalism

Voice Your Opinion!

Then deliberate with your peers

To attend this free workshop you MUST register at health.workshop@yahoo.ca (space is limited)

Sponsored by:

RSR
Réseau en Santé
Respiratoire du FRSQ

Departments of Exercise Science and Journalism, Concordia